OK, thanks Mark.

Also, we did not build in site officers for restaurants at night. I don't think this is a big deal, since I assume that Mr. Leo's selections – in additions to lists of restaurants we sent have some English-speaking staff. You have all of our numbers for emergencies on the master control sheets that we've been producing.

Hi [REDACTED]

I understand that we will have bios/headshots on Friday. I'll forward Jane's to you in a little bit under separate cover. We will also get the Administrator's talking points for his Italy meetings on Friday, so we will have a better understanding of his posture at meetings/events. Unlike past Administrators, these are being prepared mostly by his immediate staff. All we have otherwise, is the vague generalities we have already shared.

Mark

Dear Anna and Mark,

These new appointees need to have bios and headshots sooner or later, so we hope you can provide them. Long-term professionals like Jane should have something they could send right away. Unless we missed others, we only have Mark's photo and bio. Thus, we need pretty much everyone else, except Hodayah, since she won't be in Rome, and will be negotiating the hours away when [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] is in Bologna. I'll introduce her to [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] at the reception (if they let Hodayah out – Francesco La Camera is quite a task-master!)

Also, I really need to know about your conversations with Pruitt and what he is looking for in these meetings so we can incorporate that into our papers and give guidance to Kelly and our Italian hosts.

I have a deadline of tomorrow COB here for papers for [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] for the biz leaders RT, Bruno Leone RT (site officer Franco and I are doing a site visit tomorrow, but of course w/o IBL, since they're up North), and the judicial RT (the site officers and I met with the judge – the Appellate Court President who is hosting us.) I'll run these papers by you for clearance, so you can have a better idea, but I need to give the site officers more information so they can prepare [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] for the posture the Administrator will take in these encounters.

Thanks [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy]
